ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Leslie Potter, a Bennington farmer, was misled by a Schenectady, N. Y., confidence man one night recently and relieved of $26.50, the loss of which Mr. Potter reported to the police.

The Reformed Presbyterian church association at South Rivergate has voted to extend a call to the Rev. W.
A. Pollock to become its pastor as soon as his theological studies are completed.

Mrs. Addison Slayton, of Weathers-field, aged 90 years, died Friday, January 18. She had been an invalid for several years and was cared for by her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Abel Slayton, with whom she lived.

At the annual meeting of the Citizens' Telephone exchange of St. Johnsbury it was shown that the company had installed one hundred new phones the past year and strung two hundred and fifty miles of new wire. It is free from debt and has $5,000 on hand.

A financial statement of the Catholic church at Ludlow for the year 1906 shows that the receipts were $3,876.40, beside the Christmas offering of $331.
36. Of this sum $1,141 was paid for rent, $814.75 was realized from an assessment, and the Easter collection was $402.55. The parish debt is $3, 641.13.

The St. Johnsbury Merchants' association has added 185 new members the past year, making a total membership since its organization of 2,301 embracing 188 places throughout New England and Canada. It proves an effective protection from bad debts.
The total number now on the cash customer list is 9,322, with $5 in the bankrupt list and 900 removed. Regular monthly meetings are held.

BROAD LAKE FROZEN.

Ice Companies Have Staked Out Claims —Several in Same Place.

Between the hours of six and eight o'clock Friday morning Lake Champlain froze over and at noon the ice was fully two inches in thickness. Representatives of the different ice companies were on hand and risked a cold bath by going out beyond the breakwater and staking out claims. Every company in the city was represented and they all seemed to want to cut ice in the same place. Just west of the breakwater, opposite the "Shepard & Morse's Lumber Co." plant seemed to be the present time there is such a mix-up there that no one ice dealer knows exactly what ice he is going to cut.

Last year the lake closed over on February 7 and in 1903 it froze on January 22. In 1890 the broad lake closed over and broke up twice before freezing on March 7. On the following year it closed and broke up and then froze on March 8. In 1828, 1842 and 1850 the broad lake did not freeze.

A DOG'S LONG TRIP.

Collie Didn't Like His New Home and Went 800 Miles to His Old Master.

Thin and gaunt, and with no other instinct to guide him save the memory of a warm kennel, good food and an occasional caress, a little Scotch collie dog sold to a man in Valentine, Neb., returned 500 miles to his former master in Des Moines. So wobbly and weak was the dog that had it not been for a glad light of recognition that sprang into his eyes as his former master opened the door, he might have been driven from the premises.

Just how long the dog was making the distance has not yet been ascertained, but with unerring instinct he made his way over hill and prairie, through timber and across rivers, finally arriving at Des Moines, where he was given a hearty welcome, a warm kennel and a hot bowl of milk for a starter.

Five weeks before the man from Valentine, Neb., saw the collie, bought him and took it back with him to Valentine.

After the collie left his new home he was seen at Fremont, Neb., where some boys threw stones at him while he was stealing a meal from a back door. This was the report until he appeared in Des Moines.

His master was awakened by a slight scratching at the front door, on opening it he saw a shaggy, thin, dirty little collie, and from his actions at first judged he was mad. He soon recognized his former pet, however, and declared he would not now part with the animal for twice its value.—From Our Dumb Animals.

The strong feature of the New South Wales liquor law is when a person is found on licensed premises during prohibited hours he must go before the court and prove himself to be a travfine.

The new "freedom tables" issued by the British government allow ships to the competition of German ships, which are being loaded to the margin of risk and beyond.

THE AGENT OF THE TAGBLATT PROPERTY

Old Steiger, who had charge of the Tagblatt house and grounds, was probably the worst landlord that has ever been seen on the face of the globe.

When Tagblatt died, Steiger was appointed custodian of his property by the court, and Steiger was then a young man. The conditions of the will had excited a great deal of comment at the time of Tagblatt's death, but that had been so long ago that no one living seemed to know anything about it. Many persons had rented the property, but no one could be found who could get on with the landlord or agent, or whatever he was, and not a tenant had remained a year.

The place was situated near the foot of the Harz mountains, on the outskirts of a village. The village had grown to be a city, and, having enveloped the property, old Tagblatt's bequest had grown very valuable—that is, the land had, for the house was almost unobtainable from age.

If Steiger was the worst landlord in the world, Chris and Gretchen Rhenisch were the best tenants. The rental of the Tagblatt property had never been high, and when Chris and Gretchen were married they decided to take it.
This they did with open eyes, for they knew all about old Steiger and his ways. Hans was a carpenter and could make repairs himself. So the young couple decided to take the place at the low rental and not trouble the landlord to do anything for them. By this means they hoped to be let alone and not have any trouble.

Chris spent a good deal of time when he first went into the house endeavoring to make it habitable. Steiger came along while he was at work and with the usual abuse and oaths threatened he would make any changes in the house he desired for the time being, but when Steiger went away he proceeded with his repairs.

However, it was plain that there would be no peace in the house, and the couple talked over the matter of leaving it. They finally decided to stay, Chris for the reason that he was too determined to be driven out and Gretchen because she was of such a sweet disposition that she was fitted to get on with Satan himself. But Steiger seemed determined to drive them out. They made it difficult for him by denying him pretexts. The rent they invariably paid before it was due. They never asked for anything to be done to the property. Indeed, whatever patching they did was for their improvement, as any court would have decided. Notwithstanding all this Chris Steiger made it so hot for them that Chris at last gave out and told Gretchen that he must either give up their lease or go into a lunatic asylum.

Gretchen's lovable disposition seemed not a whit shaken, and they decided that thereafter Chris should keep out of Steiger's way and she would receive the abuse.

Then came a tussle between good and evil. When Steiger was seen coming down the street Chris would escape by a back door, and when the old man stopped to abuse his tenants Gretchen would sneakily retreat to the back of the house. Gretchen took it into her lovely stupid head that if Steiger had a little pity he would not be so unreasonable, so one day when the door opened and he stood glaring at her she took a crucifix off the mantel, intending to tell him the story of the Saviour. What was her surprise to see him the moment he saw it turn away and hurry on down the street, sending back volleys of execrations, just as retreating soldiers will turn and fire at an enemy.

But Gretchen had found an expedient. After that Steiger let them alone for a long while. Indeed, he did not call again till just before the expiration of the lease, when he made a deceitful onslaught, accusing Gretchen of having been trying to burn the house.
She covered before him for a moment, for he looked more terrible than ever she had seen him; then, taking up the crucifix, she was beginning to tell him of the example and sacrifice of the figure on the cross when with a howl he made off again, just as he had done before.

Having found a way to protect themselves, they decided to renew their lease, but Steiger did not renew them, and the tenants submitted the matter to the court of wills.

One day the judge sent for the tenants, and they went to him together.
"You have accepted the Tagblatt property for a year?" he asked.

"One year. Here is the lease. It expired a month ago. To whom shall we pay rent?"

"Steiger has disappeared. After discovering this I looked up the will, which is on record. It seems that Tagblatt had a shrew for a wife, and they were always quarrelling. Mrs. Tagblatt died first, and when her husband followed her he left her home to the devil."

"To the devil!" exclaimed Chris and Gretchen, the woman crossing herself.
"Yes, to the devil, with the provision that if any couple could be found to live in it one year they were to be its owners."

"Got in himself!" exclaimed Gretchen.
"Where this agent named Steiger came from and where he got his authority no one seems to know. He got hold of the property before I came on the bench. But that is now of no importance. I will have the property made over to you jointly."

"Jesu Maria! We have been paying rent to the devil!"

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpelde on Account of Its Effectiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpelde, speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleaning the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it always keeps itching which dandruff will cause.

Newbro's Herpelde effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpelde stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpelde Co., Deroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.
